STAMFORD, CT – Stamford’s Slager Madry LLC announces that Jeff Wisner, J.D./ M.D. of Cheshire, has joined the firm as a partner. Dr. Wisner is a graduate of both the University of Connecticut School of Medicine and the University of Connecticut School of Law, where he was the first and only student in the university’s history to complete both degrees simultaneously. His law practice will focus exclusively on representing plaintiffs throughout Connecticut in cases arising from life-changing events, including medical malpractice.

Before joining Slager Madry, Dr. Wisner was with the Bridgeport firm of Koskoff, Koskoff and Bieder for nearly nine years, the last two as a partner.

Dr. Wisner’s addition reflects further growth by Slager Madry, which handles catastrophic cases for plaintiffs throughout Connecticut. The firm started in the fall of 2024 and added partner Gretchen Randall later that year. He will be the fifth partner at the firm, joining Paul Slager, Joaquin Madry, Nicole Coates, and Gretchen Randall.

“We have known Jeff for years and always admired and respected him as a person and lawyer,” said Paul Slager. “We are flattered he has elected to continue his professional journey with us. Jeff will advance our ability to help members of our community who face the terrible consequences of negligence; we have tremendous respect for our friends at Koskoff, Koskoff and Bieder, and know that Jeff’s time there provided him with invaluable experience in a high-level law practice.”

Joaquin Madry added, “Jeff’s medical training, coupled with his legal acumen, will ensure he can give clients in our growing practice the very best representation. We are fully committed to providing clients a personal, attorney-centered experience. Jeff will significantly strengthen this continuing mission.”

Partner Nicole Coates served with Dr. Wisner on the University of Connecticut Law Review during law school. “Jeff made a strong impression as not only a brilliant thinker and editor, but as someone who was always at his best when the intensity was highest,” she said. “All of us who worked with Jeff during our law school days knew he was going to be a gifted lawyer in the setting of high-stakes litigation.”

For his part, Dr. Wisner is excited to join Slager Madry. “It is both a privilege and a personal milestone to join the ranks of Paul, Joaquin, Nicole, and Gretchen in their pursuit of justice for Connecticut families. Slager Madry’s track record of holding institutions and healthcare providers accountable is what first drew me to the firm; its unparalleled commitment to clients and pursuit of systemic change is what convinced me to make Slager Madry my home.”

Slager Madry LLC represents people across Connecticut whose lives have been irreparably changed by catastrophic events, including medical malpractice. Jeff Wisner can be contacted at jwisner@slagermadry.com and the firm can be found at slagermadry.com.
